Foreword

The past year at Kellam has been one of challenge—not only of mind, but also of body and spirit. In this volume, the staff of the 1966 Challenger presents a record of this challenge.

This story is no mere chronicle; it is a living record of significant accomplishment. The past year saw Kellam, even before graduating its second class, receive accreditation. An enrollment increased by 200 students demanded new courses. To meet the challenge of providing the best education possible, each department added new equipment, and the library added approximately 3,500 volumes.

This year has seen a day set aside to honor Mr. Davis, and one to honor Kellam's 1965 graduating class at the first Homecoming.

The annual staff reviews for the past year the challenges given and met by not only the upper classmen but also the other students and faculty. As the seniors were graduated in June, they took with them the satisfaction of challenges met and the awareness of challenges to come.

The mental challenge: born of curiosity, heightened by encouragement,

tempered by doubt,

met by resolution.

The spiritual challenge: born of emotion, heightened by involvement, tempered by respect, met by courage.

The physical challenge: born of motion, heightened by competition, tempered by cooperation, met by strength.

The challenge of Kellam provides the student with a means for self-expression . . .

... and a basis for participation in the society of which he becomes a part.

Kellam Experiences First Homecoming

Returning graduates cheer team in losing cause against Virginia Beach which later resulted in a victory by way of a forfeit

Kellam celebrated its first Homecoming November 12 in the football game against Virginia Beach. The first graduating class returned for the game and halftime ceremonies; the current senior class made them welcome.

The SCA planning committee, headed by Roxy Faust, handled all the details from the theme, "Camelot;" to the pre-game parade, led by Mr. Davis and Mr. Cox, the grand marshals; to the dance afterward, featuring the Hang Five Mann. The stadium held four separate seating divisions: one for the distinguished guests, one for the graduates, one for the seniors, and one for the underclassmen.

The parade at halftime was sponsored by the SCA, and twenty-seven cars followed seven floats. The school board members selected the winning float and its builders received a twenty-five dollar prize. The Naval Air Station donated the queen's float. The crowning of the queen by Mr. Davis and the presentation of the princesses attired in long gowns and white fur wraps were the highlight.

The football game with traditional rival, the Seahawks, was climaxed with a 19-0 score in Virginia Beach's favor. The game, however, was awarded to Kellam by forfeit.

The rivalry that exists between the seniors and juniors assumed the form of the annual Powder Puff football game on October 20. Challenged by the Junior class girls, the senior girls went into the game with a fighting spirit, determined not to forfeit the prized senior tables in the cafeteria.

The quarterback for the Senior team, Karen Corbell, passed for one of the seniors' five touchdowns, and kicked for one of the two extra points. Center Sue Carsan made several yardage gains; Carole Kawalczyk was the star of the game for the senior team as she made four of the touchdowns on reverse plays and one on a pass from Karen Corbell. The Seniors claimed some of their success came from their mascot, a skunk; their coaches, Mr. Tepa and Mr. DeSarra; and their cheerleaders, male counterparts in feminine garb.

The Junior team, under the instruction of Mr. Johnson, fought hard and well in their determination to outscore the opposing team. Emily Howerin, Barbara Caris, Marie Brinkley, Margaret Vencil, Jackie George, and Tiki Lay were just a few of the members of the defiant eleventh graders.

The juniors and seniors co-sponsored a dance after the game, at which Mr. Tepa presented the seniors with a trophy of their 32-14 victory.

Jefferson Davis Day

Jerry Winnett contributes to the fund to purchase an oil portrait of Mr. Davis as Lindo Baker and Beverley Dixon lug their iron pot to senior homerooms.

The senior class recognized Mr. Jefferson Davis for outstanding service to his school, community, and country and the interest he has taken in the class's achievements by honoring him with a portrait.

The work began many weeks before the day appointed for the presentation. An iron pot was lugged from one senior homeroom to another for the collection of money to finance the portrait. Mr. Davis was led to believe the collection was for a senior scholarship.

Miss Bryan, senior class president Bannie Atwood, and the class took great pains to keep the secret from Mr. Davis. It was not until the morning designated for the event, December 20, that he was told. Delayed by his wife, Mr. Davis arrived late at school to find an assembly in the auditorium held in his honor, where Miss Louise Luxford, Mr. Frank Cox, and Mr. Richard Absalom lauded his merits. The unveiling of the portrait was received with applause.

After the presentation, a reception was held in the library for the 500 invited guests. The portrait was hung in the foyer.

Mr. Davis stands beside the portrait presented to him by the senior class, as his sister, Mrs. Rose Morrisette, and his brother, Mr. Q. C. Davis admire the remarkable facsimile.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Rockefeller extend Mr. DAVIS congratulations after the presentation.

Mr. Davis Presents Class Rings to Juniors at

Mr. Davis and Reggie Lewis, junior class president, discuss presentation of rings.

At 8:30 PM on March 15 juniors and their dates began arriving at the stately Cavalier Hotel for the traditional Junior Ring Dance. Sophomore ushers checked invitations, wraps were removed, corsages pinned on, and couples drifted on to the dance floor. The music was provided by one of the top area bands, the Hang Five Mann.

Couples danced to the lively beat of "Louie Louie", took walks along the Cavalier's terrace, had their pictures taken, introduced their dates to teachers, and drank punch from a bubbling fountain.

At last the long awaited time came for the presentation of the class rings. Reggie Lewis, junior class president, made a short welcoming speech and Mr. Davis congratulated the junior class on the success of their dance. The juniors then lined up at the head of the stairs to walk down to receive their rings.

When the dance finally ended at 11:30 PM most couples went out for a late dinner. The two most popular gathering places were the Isle of Capri and the Charcoal Room. At last the couples straggled home, sorry that the Junior Ring Dance was over, but already looking forward to the Senior Prom.

Danna Jagger, Vicki Templeton, and Enrique Morlanne wait apprehensively to receive their rings.

Senior Class Presents John Van Druten's

On April 1 the seniors hoisted a banner up the flag pole announcing the Senior Play which was to be held the nights of the first and second. On April second underclassmen left their homerooms to find that the seniors had covered the hallways with balloons which once again advertised the Senior Play. A period of chaos followed as the students proceeded to pop the balloons. This resulted in Mr. Davis' calling the Senior Class officers to his office, thus, giving the play additional advertisement.

The advertised play was John Van Druten's comedy 'Bell, Book, and Candle'. Linda Dean had the lead as witch Gillian Holroyd who fell in love with very normal Shepherd Henderson (Mike Auld). Gillian's brother Nicky (Richard West) helped author Sidney Redlitch (Mark Elder) write a book about witches. Aunt Queenie (Mary Graham) is the comic character of the play with her mischievous spells.

As there were only five acting roles, most of the seniors did backstage work under the supervision of Mrs. Spitzer. Preparations were begun at the beginning of the second semester. Props were gathered together such as Mr. Sanderlin's portrait of a seagull. Senior boys got out of class to paint scenery and there were often students working until late in the evening. All seniors who contributed to the Senior Play, however, were rewarded with a cast party at the Isle of Capri Restaurant on April 2.

John Liming (bottom), Mark Elder, and Ken Laughlin paint the set.

After much huffing and puffing, seniors prepare to release balloons as advertisement for Senior Play.

Nicky Holroyd (Richard West) and his sister Gillian Holroyd (Linda Dean) listen to Sidney Redlitch (Mark Elder) as Shepherd Henderson (Mike Auld) searches for a phone number.

At rehearsal, Nicky Holroyd (Richard West) and Sidney Redlitch (Mark Elder) made an unexpected visit to the two lovers.

Jules (Mr. Brown) and Emily (Mrs. Sawyer) try to stop Felix (Mr. Anderson) from going to rescue his daughter.

Faculty Presents 'My Three Angels'

Joseph (Mr. Peterson) helps Mme. Porole (Miss Hollowell) pay on overdue bill.

On April 22 and 23 the faculty presented Sam and Bella Spewach's comedy "My Three Angels". More than one thousand people attended the two performances. The proceeds were used for senior scholarships and to aid the work of the teacher's welfare committee.

The story takes place in French Guiana in 1910 with the action taking place between Christmas Eve and Christmas morning. Meek Felix Ducotel (Mr. Anderson) and his wife Emilie (Mrs. Sawyer) run a non-profit general store unintentionally, the reason being that customers such as Madame Parole (Miss Hollowell) buy everything on credit.

On Christmas Eve word comes that Felix's heartless financier brother, Henri Trochard (Mr. Perry), is arriving that evening with his son Paul (Mr. Bland), who has jilted Felix's daughter, Marie Louise (Miss Holland). Henri threatens to take Felix's store from him if the books do not show a profit. It is at this time that Joseph (Mr. Peterson), Jules (Mr. Brown), Alfred (Mr. DeSarro), and their pet snake, Adolph, arrive and by crooked means straighten out the Ducotel's financial and romantic problems.

In the end, Henri and Paul have mysteriously died and the "three angels" are planning a marriage between unsuspecting Marie Louise and a dashing lieutenant (Mr. Johnson).

Alfred demands to know the Lieutenant's marital status.

Marie Louise and Paul are startled by Uncle Henri.

Senior Prom Held at Bow Creek Country Club

The biggest social event of the high school years, the Senior Prom, was held at the Bow Creek Country Club on May 6. Sophomore ushers assisted couples to the ballroom, checked wraps, and served refreshments.

The theme of the Prom was "Days of Wine and Roses". Paper rose bushes, candles in wine bottles, and a member of the class singing "Days of Wine and Roses" helped carry out the theme.

Music was provided for the occasion by the well known local group, the Bechnuts. They played the first song of the evening at nine o'clock.

Although no school sponsored activity was held after the Prom, most couples donned bermudas after the dance had ended and attended beach parties.

Preparations for the Prom had begun months before under the supervision of the senior sponsor, Miss Bryon. On the morning of May 6 seniors worked frantically to complete decorations, girls left school early for hair appointments, and seniors left early to prepare decorations for the Prom.

Seniors dance to the music provided by the Beachnuts at the Prom which was held at the Bow Creek Country Club Ballroom.

Miss Roiney, Miss Hollond, Mrs. Shepard and their escorts were among the chaperones at the Prom.

Donald Ambrosen, President of the Creed's Ruitan Club, and Joe Danning, Line Coach at the College of William and Mary, visit with Mr. Tepo after the Banquet.

On May 23 athletes from all phases of competition gathered for the Fourth Annual Awards Dinner sponsored by the Creed's Ruitan Club. The principle speaker was Joe Danning, Line Coach at the College of William and Mary.

After dinner trophies from each phase of sports were presented to the most outstanding athlete in that field. The baseball trophy was presented to Vernan Summerell; Basketball, to Johnny Whitehurst; Football, to Elbert Davis; Wrestling, to James Kovacs; and Track, to Clarence George.

The Manogram SPARC award for the school's outstanding athlete went to Johnny Whitehurst.

Graduates file in at beginning of ceremony.

As the band played Verdi's "Grond Morch from Aido" seniors filed into the Kellom stadium led by juniors Reggie Lewis and Steve Thompson. Everyone remained standing as Leslie E. Groce, minister of Chority Methodist Church gave the invocation. The mixed chorus then sang the traditional "Climb Every Mountain."

Senior Class President, Bonnie Atwood introduced the speaker, Mr. Frank W. Cox, superintendent of Virginio Beach schools. Mr. Cox stated that he had seen three generations of youth and the present generation was the finest of them all including his own.

Mr. Wade J. Duke, Kellom's guidance director awarded scholarships. Principal Jefferson Davis presented the first diplomas to class president Bonnie Atwood and vice president Tounia Ewing. Valedictorian Beverley Dixon, salutatorian Jonet Grimstead, and the nineteen honor graduates were next to receive diplomas, followed by the rest of the senior class.

All stood and sang the Kellom Alma Mater. The graduates then solemnly walked off the field with the band playing "Pomp and Circumstances."

School Secures Accreditation

Mr. Jefferson Davis, Principal, holds a Bachelor's degree from Elon College and a Masters in Education from William and Mary.

In Fourth Year of Operation

Full accreditation as a high school was the highlight of the 1965-1966 scholastic year at Kellam. Coming early in the academic life of Kellam, the importance of this accreditation of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools not only gives status to a high school, but serves as an added advantage to those students applying to schools and colleges after being graduated from Kellam.

To receive accreditation from the Association, a school must meet certain requirements. Among these requirements is an average of five volumes per pupil shelved in the library stacks; other standards established by the Association are the classroom and building size, teacher-pupil ratio, curriculum, and the percentage of teachers who hold Master's degrees. In addition, all teachers must hold at least a Bachelor's degree.

This accreditation marks not only the end of much hard work, but it also presents a challenge to Kellam to maintain these high standards which it was required to achieve.

Mr. George Tepo, Assistant Principal and Athletic Director, holds a Bachelor's degree and a Master's in Education from Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

Students See Hamlet, MacBeth, As You Like It

The overall aim of the English Department is to prepare students for fuller, richer, more successful lives as individuals, citizens, and members of the community of man. The means by which this goal may be achieved are the study of literature, "the best that is known and taught in the world," and the study of the English language, the medium by which communication can be attained. The English Department offers, in addition to the basic program, specialized interest courses in drama, journalism and speech, and a special reading program designed to improve reading proficiency in preparation for college-level work.

Kellam students were given the opportunity to see professional Shakespearean productions this year when the English Departments of the city co-operated to bring to Virginia Beach the National Shakespeare Company, whose repertoire included Macbeth, Hamlet, and As You Like It.

During the school year Kellam students achieved distinction in several areas. In the District Forensics Contest, Teresa Seaman, a sophomore, was awarded first place honors for prose reading, while other students competed notably in poetry reading, public speaking, and spelling. Burnette Thompson, an eighth grader, was a finalist in the Tidewater Spelling Contest. The Roundtable received awards of merit from the Columbia University Press Association.

Mr. Heerbrandt prepares for an International Relations class by reading the newspaper.

The highlight of the year for the Social Studies Department was an assembly which was presented by the Virginia Beach Bar Association in observance of National Law Week. A mock trial was held at which courtroom procedure and the functions of the various law officials were explained. This mock trial was of special interest to the juniors and seniors who were taking American History and United States Government.

Two of the most important courses that a student must take before he can graduate are American History and United States Government. The United States History course is designed to give the student the background in the History of our nation which he will need to take the course in United States Government.

Among the other courses offered by the Social Studies Department are Economics, World History, Geography, Sociology, and International Relations. The International Relations course is one of the courses which keeps the student up to date on what is happening in the world as well as teaching him what has happened in the past. One of the most important sources of information for the International Relations course is the newspaper; the importance of current events is stressed.

Mrs. Browder, a member of the faculty for four years, uses a Latin map to point out the location of one of Caesar's Gallic conquests to a Latin II class.

For the first time Kellam students entered competition in the National Spanish Test and the National French Test. Three Spanish students, Karen Claver, Janet Grimstead, and David March, won the first three places in the Tidewater district.

Language students benefit from a wide variety of teaching methods. Language teachers use the language laboratory, films, and other audio-visual equipment to enrich the foreign language program. Students also do extra reading and creative writing.

The language teachers have attended state and district meetings which will help them to plan a better program in the future.

Language students, according to Mr. Peterson, Department Chairman, comprise a group of the most active students at Kellam. Among their extra-curricular activities are the International Tea, language clubs, and the showing of a French film, La traversée de Paris, as a project to raise money for a new console which is needed in the language lab.

Each year the Foreign Language Department sponsors the International Tea. This activity allows the foreign language students to use their creative abilities and knowledge of foreign cultures. Another purpose of the International Tea is to create an interest in languages among non-language students. The entertainment is presented by the language students. About 500 parents, students, and guests from other schools attended the tea.

The Fine Arts Department strives to give students the opportunity to study instrumental and choral music and art and to develop their talents in these fields.

Each year the band plays at the home football games and gives a concert at Christmas and in the spring. The chance to compete with other bands and individual students at the District II Band Festival and at the District Salon and Ensemble Festival which encourages students to do their best.

Students taking Art are encouraged to develop their talents through the varied curriculum offered in the Art course. These students use their creative abilities to make posters for such activities as the Faculty Play, and to decorate the display cabinets throughout the school. In February the Department honored Robert Buda, one of the most talented art students in the Department, by displaying his works in the Library Foyer.

The Mixed Chorus and the Girl's Chorus at Christmas and in the spring. Three very active musical groups are the Kellamettes, an all girl singing group; the Kellamares, an all boy singing group; and the Scaps, a singing group which puts special emphasis on Anglo-Saxon ballads.

Charus students hold many informal song sessions with Miss Holland at the piano.

Math Analysis, Analytic Geometry Enrich

The Math Department strives to teach the various levels of mathematics from the basic principles in the eighth and ninth grade courses to the more complex theories and applications in the advanced courses. Among the advanced courses are Analytical Geometry and Math Analysis which were offered for the first time. The Math Analysis course was designed to give the student an overall concept of the number system. The Analytical Geometry is a combination of the concepts of geometry and algebra. Both courses emphasize the importance of proofs in mathematics.

Through the use of wide and varied teaching aids and methods the Math Department attempts to give both college and non-college bound students the background they will need in the future.

The Department makes wide use of the audio-visual equipment in the course of daily instruction. Among its equipment are overhead projectors and a pegboard Cartesian plane which was constructed by members of the Department.

NASA Team Explains Space Program at Assembly

Eighth and ninth grade science courses have been changed from general science to life science and physical science so that students would be better prepared to continue study in the sciences and so that the biology course would be more suitable as an elective. The BSCS approach to biology relates the higher forms of life to environment and primitive life.

Two hours classes were instituted to facilitate longer lab periods. The labs are equipped with apparatus which enables a more extensive study of the sciences.

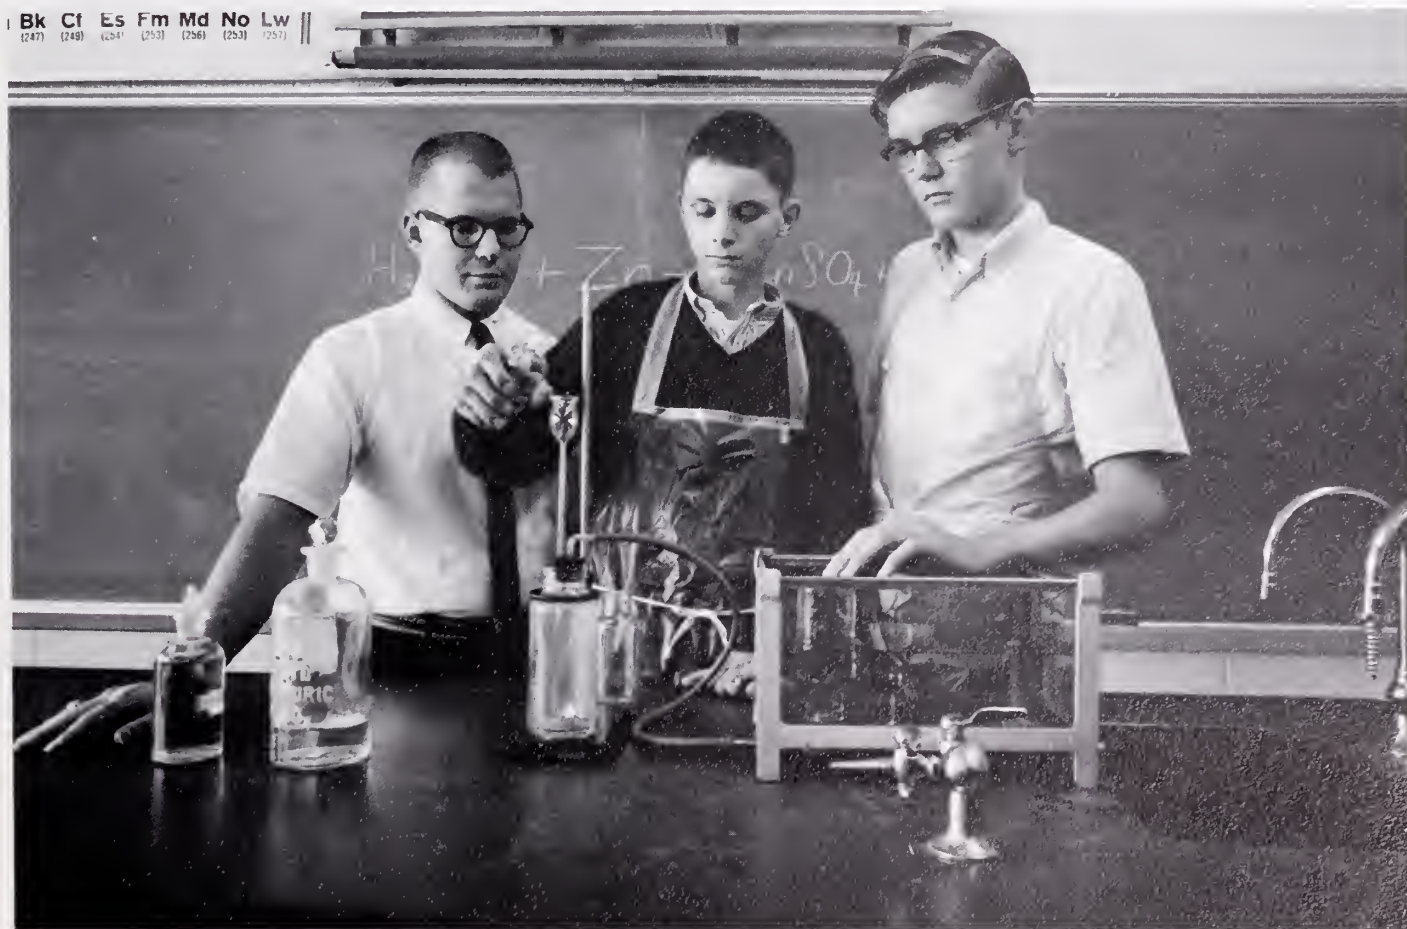

Chemistry and physics students visited Lynnhoven Elementary School where they performed demonstrations for the Science Club. Several seniors toured the Portsmouth Vepco plant. Another highlight of the year was an assembly which was devoted to demonstrations by representatives from NASA.

Business Department Adds Personal Typing, Notehand

Mr. Johnson listens to a student's question while he waits for his Typing I class to finish their assignment.

Among the new courses offered by the Business Department are Clerical Office Practice, Notehand, and Personal Typing.

The Clerical Office Practice course is designed to teach students the operation of the various types of calculating machines, filing and general office procedures, to cut stencils and to produce multiple copies, and to transcribe from the dictaphone.

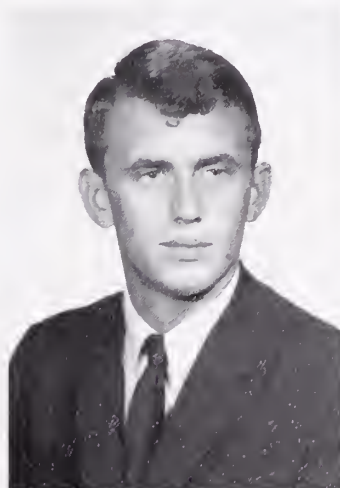

Notehand and Personal Typing are both semester courses which are offered to college bound students, especially seniors. The Notehand course is designed to teach students how to take notes quickly and accurately, as well as what material they should take notes on. In the Personal Typing course students are taught the basic principles of typing so that they will be able to type their own research papers and correspondence.

The Business Department prepares students to work in the business world by teaching such courses as General Business, Typing, Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Business Law, and Business Economics.

Mr. Eason observes as Kathy Fahey, Debbie Paugh, and Carale Kowalczyk practice office skills which they learned in a

The Home Economics Department has as its primary objective the development of skills which will enable a girl to become a proficient homemaker. Instruction is offered in sewing, food preparation, nutrition, housing, child care and development, baby-sitting, marriage, good grooming, personality development, family living, and interior decoration.

A new course, Senior Home Economics, was begun this year, and it proved especially popular with students, as evidenced by the doubled enrollment projected for next year.

The annual Fashion Show and Tea again demonstrated the competence of Kellam students in the homemaking field. Students modeled for parents and guests clothes made as individual projects, and were entirely responsible for preparing the refreshments offered to the sixty persons who attended the event.

Lindo Bishop, Lindo Whitehurst, Donno Twitchell, Betty Jo Brown, Morie Scherk, and Ethel Roberts receive compliments on the dresses they made.

Mrs. DeSarro instructs Sharon Love in the proper manner of setting a formal table.

Ginger Etheridge, Yvonne Brown, Sue DeVoughn, and Jockie White await their turns at modelling clothes they have made.

The Vocational Department is composed of three sub-departmental divisions. The largest division, the Industrial Arts Department, has as its objective broad experiences which allow the student to find his own aptitudes and interests. General Shop shows the student the full range of industrial arts and skills on a generalized level. Advanced courses in wood-working, metal-working, and mechanical drawing offer more specialized instruction and direction.

The Agriculture Department offers opportunities for learning general methods of farming, methods of leadership, and skills for industrial farming. Through this program, students gain confidence in themselves, pride in their vocation, and knowledge of the farmer's role in the larger economy.

The Distributive Education Department provides classroom instruction in broad areas of retailing, wholesaling, and service occupations, and includes for most students the opportunity to apply learned principles in actual work experience in one of the three areas.

The Student Co-operative Association, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Boyd, found itself busy making plans for Kellom's first homecoming when school opened. A special homecoming committee was established with the entire SCA voting on major decisions.

Other activities of SCA members included collecting canned food for Easter baskets which were given to a needy family, sponsoring the annual Topsy Turvey dance, decorating the teachers' lounges at Christmas, and serving as ushers at open house. At graduation the SCA awarded a $150 scholarship to Mike Auld. They also sponsored a junior boy for boy's state. At the Senior Awards assembly they presented Mr. Floro with a gift in appreciation of his fine work around the school. They also established the ICC which allowed representatives of all clubs to meet together to discuss common problems.

Honor Society Inducts Seventeen New Members

Beth Beddingfield lights her candle in the induction ceremony.

Honoring those students who have strived to be a credit to their community and who have a high scholastic average is the principle purpose of the National Honor Society.

Seventeen new members were inducted into the society during a ceremony which was held on February 15 during second bell. Of the seventeen members only three were seniors. They were Wayne Mann, Linda Lewis, and Jo Elaine Willoughby. The juniors that were inducted were John Townes, Bill Sokowich, Dan Swanson, Suzanne Mowbray, Marilyn Morgan, Nancy Fenton, Pam Revalinsky, David March, Danny Mendez, Carole Martin, Susie Finn, John Cooney, and Nancy Robinson. A reception was held after the induction where the inductees met and were congratulated by their parents and Mr. Davis.

Many clubs sponsored penny drives to collect money for various reasons. The National Honor Society collected money for a scholarship which was awarded at graduation to Beverley Dixon.

Students took pledge which was administered by Beverley Dixon after being topped by an Honor Society member.

Keyette's school activities included such projects as working the concession stand at football games, supporting the S.C.A.'s canned food drive, and decorating the teacher's lounges at Easter. Keyette members operated the refreshment stand at the faculty play and donated half of the profits toward the faculty scholarship and the teacher's welfare fund. They participated in school activities, such as homecoming, the junior carnival, and the tricycle race. The club also gave a scholarship at graduation to Tom Doran.

As projects for the community the Keyettes collected for the Cancer Society, March of Dimes, Unicef, and Cerebral Palsy. Canned food was contributed by the members every month to needy families. At Easter the Keyettes bought an orphan child a new outfit, took him to the park for the day, and collected clothes for his orphanage. Other community projects were buying Christmas presents for a mental hospital, collecting clothes for Goodwill, and making bean bags for a children's hospital. The girls supported a Korean orphan and donated $100 to the Peace Corps. The Keyette Club won the ICC award for the most active club.

Key Club Publishes First Printed Directory

The biggest project of the Key Club was the publication of the Key Club student directories. Every student is listed under his grade level with his address and phone number, the purpose being to make it easier for students to call their friends. At Christmas they sold boxes of candy as an additional means of making money.

Key Club members collected for the March of Dimes and held their annual March of Dimes dance at the conclusion of the drive. In May, the Key Club, along with the Keyettes, were in charge of the Cerebral Palsy fund raising campaign in the Plaza area.

The Key Club produced the winning float at Homecoming. It depicted a knight shooting a sea-hawk with a cannon. The caption read "Blast Sea-hawks". They also made trash cans out of barrels for Homecoming in an effort to keep the stadium clean.

In order to be accepted by the Key Club a boy must exhibit qualities of leadership and initiative. The boy must also maintain a C or better average in school. This year there were twenty-eight boys in the club.

Johnny Whitehurst Wins Monogram SPARC Award

Mike Futrell pitched a JV no-hitter, and club secretary, Steve Thompson, ended the season with a 2-0 record.

The purpose of the Monogram Club is to honor varsity athletes who have lettered in any sport. The club has fulfilled its purpose by purchasing monogram jackets, graduation numerals, patches which designate the sport in which an athlete lettered, and a code of ethics by which athletes should conduct themselves.

The Monogram Club presented its SPARC Award to Johnny Whitehurst at the Awards Banquet on May 23. The award is given to the outstanding athlete who excels in the fields of sportsmanship, performance, attitude, responsibility, and courage.

In February, the Monogram Club held a dance in the cafeteria after the Faculty-Norfolk Neptune Basketball Game. Another money raising project included selling candy bars in order to purchase a whirlpool for the athletic department. The Monogram Club also co-sponsored a float in the Homecoming parade with the drill team.

The club is open to any athlete who has lettered and desires entrance into the club.

Epsilon Tri-Hi-Y Spends Easter With Orphan

In order to fulfill their purpose of promoting Christianity, Epsilon Tri-Hi-Y members danned costumes and entertained hospitalized children, collected for the march of Dimes, and took an orphan boy out on Easter wearing a new outfit they had purchased for him.

Epsilon has participated in almost all school activities including the Junior Class Carnival for which they had a fortune telling booth with Mrs. Sawyer as the gypsy mystic.

Terry Cornett, Epsilon Tri-Hi-Y president, was vated the mast outstanding club member and was also the recipient of the Epsilon Tri-Hi-Y's fifty dollar scholarship at graduation.

Trinity Makes Baskets for Needy Families

Trinity Tri-Hi-Y service projects included giving baskets of food to needy families at Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter. The club donated $15 to the family of a boy who had been almost completely paralyzed.

In order to earn money the club held several bake sales, and sold candy. Following the French Club Tricycle Race the club sponsored a dance. The girls also sponsored a boy in the Y-Teen's Ugly Boy Contest.

For their personal recreation the club held a slumber party, and in May Miss Seagraves, Trinity-Tri-Hi-Y sponsor, held a beach party for the girls at her home.

At the Senior Awards Assembly Trinity Tri-Hi-Y presented their president, Mary Grahom with an award.

For the Junior Class Carnival Trinity Tri-Hi-Y operated a gambling booth, 'Casina Royale', a typical prize being a dracula doll.

Y-Teens Sponsor Ugly Boy Contest

The Y-Teens sponsored the Ugly Boy Contest. For this event every club selected a boy to represent their club and then collected votes for him at a penny a vote. The ugliest boy was Gene Adkins, sponsored by the Nurses Club.

Other Y-Teen projects included a book drive for the library, the selling of litterbags, and the purchasing of Easter outfits for three orphan children. The Y-Teen members bought and decorated a Christmas tree for the front fayer during the Christmas season, and had a luncheon clean-up project. They also held a pajama party. The Y-Teens were under the leadership of Diane Moritz and the sponsorship of Mrs. Salle.

Jefferson Davis Hi-Y Hears Recent Graduate

The Jefferson Davis Hi-Y is a school organization named after the principal; its purpose is to create, maintain and extend throughout the home, school and community high standards of Christian character and fellowship. The club is designed to work in co-ordination with the Tri-Hi-Y's of the local area.

Each member is active in other extracurricular activities, such as sports, in addition to the Hi-Y.

The chief project which the club undertook was a float in the Homecoming parade.

Future Teachers Visit William and Mary

The Future Teachers of America is a national organization dedicated to learning about and striving to be a part of the teaching profession.

As in past years, the Kellam chapter of the FTA has provided helpful service to the faculty at exam time by helping with grades, records, and report cards.

At a meeting early in the year, Miss Louise Luxford spoke about the qualities to be looked for in a good teacher.

The FTA, affiliated with both the National and Virginia Education Associations, has also made annual field trips, on which they were given a guided tour of a local college campus. This year's membership traveled to the College of William and Mary in Williamsburg.

Miss Louise Luxford, Virginia Beach Public School's Director of Personnel, speaks to Future Teachers concerning qualities necessary for one to become a teacher as Mr. Keen presides.

Future Nurses Club members Marilyn Tawnes, Linda Stage, Barbara Wells, and Kathy Dudley prepare Christmas stockings for American soldiers in Viet Nam.

Future Nurses Club Receives Red Cross Praise

Linda Hinue, Sheryl Bradford, Kathy Dudley, Diane Allen, and Pat Walker use study hall to work in clinic.

The main purpose of the Future Nurses Club is to prepare girls to meet the prerequisites for nursing school and to help them gain a more thorough knowledge of the nursing field. In order to carry out this objective the club has taken field trips to Eastern State Hospital in Williamsburg, Obici Hospital in Suffolk, and Norfolk General and DePaul Hospitals in Norfolk. Membership in the Future Nurses Club entitles girls to take the Candy Striper nursing course. Two of the four senior members have already been accepted by nursing schools and are planning to work as paid nurses' aides this summer.

The club has worked to benefit others. At Christmas members sponsored a school campaign to fill Christmas stockings for U.S. soldiers in Viet Nam. They made cancer bandages to donate to the Virginia Beach cancer clinic. In May, the club held a drive to fill a chest with supplies for high schools in South Viet Nam.

The Future Nurses have also been active within the school. The club held the first dance of the year in September. Members participated in the Homecoming parade and the French Club tricycle race. They sponsored the winning couple, Jo Elaine Willoughby and Donnie Smith, for King and Queen of Hearts at the Valentines Dance. A hundred dollar scholarship was awarded to a senior club member at graduation.

Future Farmers Comprise School's Largest Club

The Future Farmers Club is affiliated with the Future Farmers of America, a national organization. The club's purposes are to develop competent, aggressive rural and agricultural leadership, to create and nurture the love of country life, and to encourage scholarship. The Future Farmers sponsored a dance, a banquet, and entered livestock and tractor contests. Membership in the club is decided on first year accomplishments in agriculture. The Future Farmers Club with 103 members is the largest at Kellam.

DE Students Work in Area Stores

This is only the second year for the Distributive Education class yet it has already become one of the more popular courses. So many applications were received for next year that more had to be turned down than were accepted. Only juniors and seniors who have secured the approval of the sponsor may take the course and join the club.

Students attend classes in which they learn about the field of distribution which they apply to jobs in the afternoon. Students hold such positions as dental assistants, shoe salesmen, and beauticians' assistants. The average earning of these Distributive Education students is one dollar and nineteen cents an hour.

The DE Club float circles the field in the halftime parade at the Homecoming game.

FBLA Club Member Wins State Position

The FBLA and Future Farmers of America cooperated on their Homecoming float entry.

Developing competent and aggressive business leadership is the prime purpose of the Future Business Leaders of America Club. The club, also, tries to improve and establish standards for entrance into store and office occupations.

The FBLA had two money making projects. They sponsored two bake sales, and had a car wash. At Christmas and at Easter they helped a needy family by giving a basket of food. The club washed the boards in the business rooms, decorated the display case by the cafeteria, held a dance on Saint Patrick's Day, and aided teachers with typing tasks.

Donna Morris was entered at the State Convention and won the position of State Historian.

The FBLA completed the year with a membership drive for next year. All persons enrolled in one or more business subjects were asked to submit their application. Acceptance was decided after recommendation of a business teacher.

A beach party was held after the school year was completed.

Sharon Boyd, Delina Koy Spicer, and Yvonne Pardee wait in the foyer before school for an FBLA meeting to begin.

The FBLA was one of the many groups who sponsored car washes to raise funds.

Club Contributes Spanish Literature to Library

Vernan Denson plays at the International Tea.

Promoting students' knowledge and appreciation of the Spanish language and culture is the purpose of the Spanish Club. This year its members have sent ten dollars per month to a Spanish Civil War veteran and his family, participated in the third annual International Tea, built a float for the Homecoming Parade, and supplied Spanish literature for the library. With the profits from their other activities, and with membership dues, the Spanish members were able to hold their yearly beach party at Sandbridge.

Miss Stonek, sponsor of the Spanish Club, has made an effort to encourage all Spanish students to join the club. It is hoped that through a constant use of the language with an introduction to the culture and customs of Spanish speaking people, the student will achieve a greater understanding of Spain and Latin America.

All students taking Spanish II, III, or IV are eligible to become members of the Spanish Club, and those enrolled in Spanish I may attend the meeting.

German Club Views 'Sound of Music'

The purpose of the German Club is to provide an opportunity for increasing knowledge of the people and customs of Germany.

In order to carry out their purpose, members reported to the club about research on subjects in which they were interested. Included in these reports were a film on Berlin, a view of German industry, ideas concerning hosteling in Germany and the political climate there.

April provided an opportunity for the club to experience seeing "The Sound of Music."

A German Club award was presented for the first time to the senior who has most contributed to the attainment of the club's goals. The award, which will be made annually, was given to president Everett Willis.

Club drove eleven Volkswagens in Homecoming parade.

First Annual French Club Tricycle Race Draws 500

The purpose of the French Club is to provide students with the opportunity to acquire conversational skill in French, through the intensive use of the language, and to develop a more acute awareness of French culture and history and a firm realization of the importance of the French contribution to the modern world. Membership is open to all French students beyond the first year level, with the approval of faculty advisors.

In the 1965-66 school year, the French Club awarded a $100 scholarship to Mary Graham in recognition of superior accomplishment. The club also purchased for the library a quantity of books dealing with the cultures of many foreign lands.

Le Grand Prix, a tricycle race boasting the most competent drivers in the school was witnessed by five hundred spectators. The cultural highlight of the year was the showing of a French film, La Traversee de Paris, which was viewed by over seven hundred students; admissions from this showing went toward the purchase of a new console for the language laboratory. The French Club also participated in the Homecoming Parade, the Junior Class Carnival, and the International Tea.

The Great Pumpkin helps Bill Satterfield and Lynda White sell yearbooks to students and teachers.

The year for the Challenger was one of innovation. A decision of the staff backed by a unanimous vote of the senior class enabled the Challenger to become Virginia Beach's first full coverage yearbook. This decision allowed all of the year's events including graduation to be covered in one book.

To finance the many changes an intensive subscription drive added three hundred subscriptions to the previous high despite an increase in the cost of the book from five to six dollars. Advertising sales were tripled and color pictures of the school were sold.

The cover was completely redesigned to include four embossings, two dyes, and a metalay plate. The traditional school colors were altered to include a maroon base.

Photography was bolstered by a contract with McIntosh Studios and the purchase of a Mimyo C33 Professional camera for the staff.

Some innovations in concept, design, and execution are obvious; others, more subtle. A new type was selected, the school was more fully covered, ninety-six pages were added, and stipple paper was used.

Recording the year's events and publishing them so that the students might have a fuller concept of their surroundings is the chief purpose of the newspaper staff. Four of the members attended classes in Richmond on newspaper writing while others attended the Southern Inter-Scholastic Press Association Convention in Lexington. They attended classes on newspaper publishing and editing. Of the seven people chosen for the Honor Quill and Scroll Organization, Linda Alley, Ken Russell and Hal Richards were chosen to represent the newspaper staff.

In order to raise money to cover cost of publishing the newspaper the staff held a dance and had a penny drive to cover cost of the senior edition of the paper.

The staff was headed by Jim Myers and Lyndo Dean, co-editors; Vicki Vivian, feature editor; Hal Richards, sports editor; Dyon McKimm, managing editor; and Paula Spruill, news editor.

Art Club Presents First Silver Palette Award

Art club member Bob Buda displays some of his work in the one man show, "Salute to an Artist" presented by the art department.

The Art Club began an active year with a trip to Richmand. There they toured the fine arts and commercial art departments of Richmand Polytechnical Institute and the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts. They also stopped in Williamsburg in order to view the Rackefeller Museum. At Christmas they had a 'Toys for Tats' drive within the school, collecting and repairing enough toys for twelve families. The art department honored art club member Bab Buda by exhibiting his work in the front foyer.

During second semester the art club held a Sadie Hawkins Dance with the school decorated in hill-billy fashion. For the International Tea the club contributed student art work and performed a skit in which famous paintings came to life. In May, the Art Club held its annual Spring Art Exhibit at which student art work is displayed about the school.

This year the Art Club initiated the Silver Palette Award which will be given only when an art student uses his time and talent to benefit the school and the community as well as himself. The award was given to Beverly Dixan.

Drama Club Takes Comedy to District Festival

Dan Swanson and Gillian Langley rehearse a scene from "Bell, Book, and Candle," Kellam's entry in the One Act Play Festival.

To promote the theatre and inspire followers of the dramatic arts is the purpose of the Drama Club.

The District One-Act Play Festival, held this year at Frederick College in Portsmouth, saw Kellam interpret the first act of Jahn Van Druten's "Bell, Book, and Candle" and receive a good rating. Betty Cramer portrayed the feminine lead, Gillian Halrayd, as she attempted to make Shepherd Henderson (Hal Richards) fall in love with her. Dan Swanson and Gillian Langley provided a comedic touch in their supporting roles as Nicky Halrayd and Aunt Queenie. Between presentations made by the numerous high schools in Norfolk and Virginia Beach, the Kellam Drama Club members toured the campus and the theatrical department of Frederick.

The Drama Club, along with the senior class and dramatics class, constructed, furnished, and decorated the set for the senior class play. The dramatic reading presented in the annual Christmas program was another of the club's projects. It plans to furnish more assemblies and programs for the student body next year.

Betty Cramer applies finishing touches to her makeup.

Library Club Finances Binding of Magazines

An avid interest in literature, experience in processing books, and good scholastic standing are qualifications possessed by Kellam's student librarians.

The purpose of the Library Club is to create a greater interest among students and teachers in the library. This year, the club has had two money-making projects to raise funds to bind magazines in order to store them for future reference. Other activities included arranging bulletin boards and book displays in the library, taking a field trip to the Norfolk Public Library, and presenting projects in the use of audio-visual equipment.

Projectionists Carl Peterson, Jimmy Kellam, Ricky Reid, and Gary Reynolds aid teachers in the use of audio visual material.

Drill Team Participates in Oyster Bowl Parade

Beginning in late August, the drill team members came out to Kellom to practice marching for football season. Once school begins they must stay after school on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays. If a girl misses more than one practice, she is not allowed to march at the next game. Discipline is strict and good conduct is required at all times. Being on the drill team is not easy work as Mrs. Hilty, drill team sponsor, is quick to point out.

The drill team put on a half-time show with the band at every home football game and often at away games. At one game the girls formed a trumpet with moving valves, and at another, "Vivo Vaudeville," they performed a soft shoe dance. There were many others.

For the homecoming half-time show the drill team and the band combined to form a castle. They also entered a float in the homecoming parade.

Drill team members marched in the Oyster Bowl Parade and afterwards attended the Oyster Bowl football game. The girls also marched in the Armed Forces Day Parade.

At the Senior Awards Assembly in May, Peggy Shirley, captain, and Kathy Dudley, co-captain, were presented with charm bracelets and a drill team charm. The other senior members were each presented with a drill team charm.

The drill team practices a formation for the Norview football game.

Prospective members wait to hear if they have made the drill team.

Band Receives Excellent Rating on Grade 5 Music

The Lancer Bond performed at every home varsity football game, executing original maneuvers along with the Drill Team. A pep band occasionally attended away games to give additional support to the football team.

As a money raising project, the bond held a Valentine Dance. Each club chose a couple for which they collected votes at a penny a vote. The winning couple was Dannie Smith and Jo Elaine Willoby, sponsored by the Future Nurses Club.

In September the band played at the opening of the Virginia Beach Antique Show. The next month they marched in the annual Oyster Bowl Parade. The band was voted the best civilian band in the Armed Forces Day Parade at Virginia Beach in May.

In the district band festival which was held at Narview High School the Lancer Bond received an excellent rating playing grade five music. In solo competition twenty-six band members received medals which are only given for an excellent or good performance.

The band gave its first John Philip Sousa Award to Terry Knight, drum major and president of the band for four years. The award was presented at the Senior Awards Assembly by Mr. Donald Proffitt, band director since Kellom opened in nineteen sixty-two.

Drum major Terry Knight received the John Phillip Sauso Award.

Rolph Dennis' talents were greatly missed after his mid-semester transfer.

Chorus Boys Organize as Kellamares

The chorus held two concerts this year. The Christmas Concert featured such songs as 'Do You Hear What I Hear' and 'Bagpipe Carol' by the concert chorus and 'Fum Fum Fum' and 'Have Yourself a Very Merry Christmas' by the girls' chorus. The Spring Concert was 'A Salute to Broadway'. Concert Chorus selections were taken from such Broadway plays as 'Carousel', 'Oklahoma', 'GiGi', 'Can Can', 'King and I', and 'Camelot'. The girls' chorus sang 'Let There Be Peace on Earth', 'Wizard of oz', 'Kentucky Babe', and 'Chim Chim Cheree'. The concert chorus performed at Baccalaureate singing 'Oh Magnify the Lord with Me' and 'The Heavens Are Telling'. At Graduation they sang the traditional 'Climb Every Mountain'. Some members of the chorus also sang at the Creeds Ruritan musical show, 'Show Boat'.

In November, Chorus representatives participated in the Virginia Regional Chorus and chorus workshop which was held at Norview.

Chorus member Jim White won the Bland Scholarship. He was also awarded the choral award as the most outstanding senior chorus member at the Senior Awards Assembly.

The Kellamettes, an all girl singing group and the newly formed Kellamares, an all boy singing group, sang at both concerts. They also sang 'If Ever I would Leave You' at Homecoming and gave concerts throughout the area. Another special group The Scops are an instrumental and vocal group specializing in Anglo-Saxon ballads.

The Kellam football season, when observed on the basis of the win and loss record, was indeed a failure. But the win and loss record is only a flat view with little background. To get the full aspect of the Knight's 1965 season in three dimensions, one must consider many other elements.

A combination of bad breaks in many games resulted in losses which might have been victories. Against Newport News, it was a long runback of a kickoff to get the Typhoons same momentum. Warwick gained an early lead as a result of a mishandle of a muddy ball by the Knights. Kellam fumbled a punt deep in our own territory against Cax and Churchland's punter pinned Kellam inside our five yard line. With a well placed quick kick, Churchland soon after broke a tie with a safety, and a touchdown in the opening moments against Virginia Beach was nullified due to a penalty. If the analysis is based on this, the season was far from a failure.

As was noted by the Coaches, Kellam's football team for 1965 put out 100 per cent effort. The team played with determination, spirit, honor and with heart.

Football coaches include Mr. DeSarro, head coach; Mr. Wooten backfield coach; and Mr. Chandler, line coach. Mr. Wooten played for the Norfolk Neptunes professional team in the Continental League and Mr. Chandler was one of their scouts.

JV Football Team Romps To 6-2-1 Season

The time may not be far away when Kellam will have a winning season in faatball. The junior varsity squad wan six, lost twa and tied one.

The first game with Oscar Smith ended in a scareless tie. The Knights faught Bayside, severely trauncing them by a 32-0 score. Princess Anne's JV squod held Kellam scareless and squeaked by with o 6-0 win. Kellam rebounded by winning faur stroight against Kempsville, Virginia Beach, Moury, and Deep Creek. Deep Creek farfeited the game before it was played. Next came a close lass to Granby by a 13-7 score, and the Knights waund up the season by overcoming orch rival Cax by on 18-6 score.

Varsity Cheerleaders Attend Summer Camp

The cheerleaders led by co-captains Yvonne Brown and Diane Maritz and sponsored by Miss Durant kept school spirit running high. They did everything from selling buttons to wrapping goal posts; everything from building a homecoming float to attending cheerleader's camp. Their weekly skits during football season, including Granny on roller skates, not only kept spirit high but entertained as well.

At the Senior Awards Assembly Diane Moritz presented Sue Osburn with the most outstanding cheerleader trophy. Linda Baker, Yvonne Brown, Denise Maritz, and Beth Beddingfield received trophies also. In order to receive this trophy a cheerleader must have served at least two years on the cheerleading squad and be a senior. Linda Lewis who served only one year received a charm.

The Knights wound up their second year of District I, Group I competition with a 3-17 record. Plagued with stiff competition, the Kellam Hoopsters did not win a game until their eighth outing against Virginia Beach when Johnny Whitehurst led the team with 28 points. Kellam almost toppled Norview, but a 40 point effort by all-state Charles Hatcher gave the Pilats a 79-62 victory.

The Knight's second victory came against Deep Creek as Whitehurst racked up 31 points to trounce the Hornets 77-59. The Knights took their last victory and second over Virginia Beach 72-56.

The team's most valuable player was Johnny Whitehurst who lettered in varsity basketball every year since the ninth grade. Johnny averaged 19 points a game, which was seventh best in the district.

Win Three Games Straight

The Junior Varsity basketball team finished with a poor looking but basically rewarding 7-11 season. The boys under the direction of Coach Copley, made steady progress throughout the year, and never gave up trying. By the end of the year it seemed that all the instruction and drills on picks, pnoting, and switching defense had finally paid off. The team started to jell, into a fighting unit.

The team won seven games and lost eleven. The Knights beat Cox, Kellam's arch rival, twice. They also overcame Virginia Beach and Deep Creek not once but twice. Most of the losses were by a slight two or less points.

Captained by Ricky Richardson, the team was noted for its individual effort. Richardson, who normally plays guard played each position this year and averaged close to 10 points a game. Another member who averaged close to ten points a game was Robert Shealy. Shealy was a gib factor in each of the twelve victories. A consistent shooter and playmaker was revealed in the person of Mike Futrell. The JV Hoopsters had a rebounder and good height in Lean George Midgette. Second yearman Chris Spruill provided good hustle and drive.

Foul shots are practiced before the start of the game.

Four Consecutive Victories

Kellam matmen ended their wrestling season with a five win and five loss record. Early in the season Kellam lost to Norview 34-16. The Knights hit the win column with a victory over Virginia Beach 31-20. Powerful Cox wrestlers beat Kellam 38-8.

The next three matches were all wins for the Knights. The victims were Norfolk Academy 34-14, Oscar Smith 21-20, and Princess Anne 25-21. With only two matches to go after the Churchland match, which was won by the Knights with a score of 31-18, Kellam had a five win and three loss record. The matmen lost their next two matches against Great Bridge 28-14 and Wilson 27-13 giving them a 5-5 record for the year.

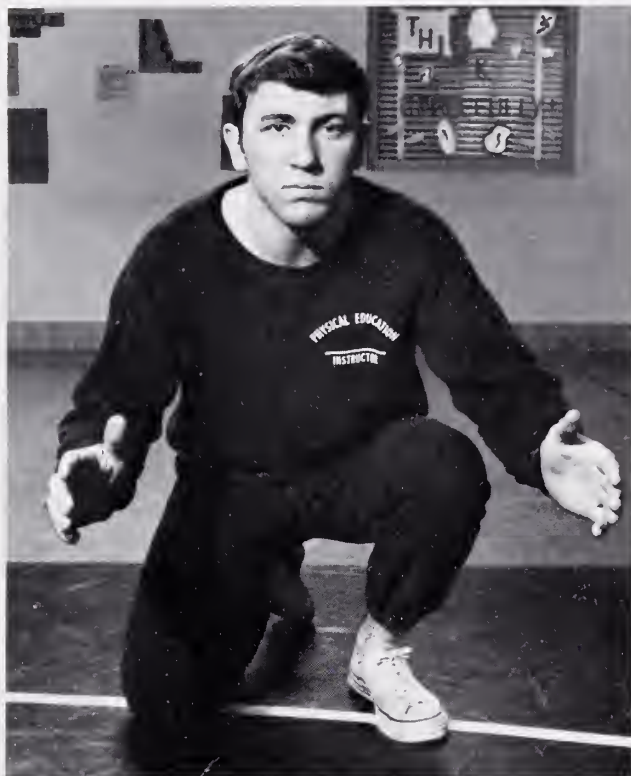

Leading the team to many victories was James Kovacs (154) and Danny Boyd (165). Kovacs scored 42 points and remained undefeated through the season. He was awarded the wrestling trophy for the teams most valuable member.

Varsity tri-captains are Danny Boyd, Everett Willis, and James Kovacs.

Losing the first two games at the hands of Wilson, the Knights forged on and downed Virginia Beach 6-0, Princess Anne 5-1, and Crodock 5-1. The Boy-side Morlins broke the Knight's winning streak with an 11-5 setback.

But the Knights, back on the field, won their next two games, defeating Moury 5-1 and Deep Creek 2-1. Having played eight games the record was five wins and three losses.

The next four games were all losses for the varsity. They were overcome by Great Bridge 4-1, Gronby 7-3, Cox 9-3 and Norview 5-1. Kellom, then, defeated Princess Anne 4-1, for the second time, Oskar Smith 5-3, Virginia Beach 13-0 and ended the year by overcoming Churchland 3-1.

By losing to Great Bridge 11-7 in the play-off for a tournament berth, Kellom was unable to go to the Tournament.

JV Record Best in School's Sports History

Kellam's JV baseball team wound up with a 12-3 record which is the best performance by any Kellam team in the school's history. The three losses came against Kempsville, James Blair, and Granby.

The Knights first game was a loss, but they quickly rebounded against James Blair behind the no-hit pitching of Mike Futrell. After a loss to James Blair, Kellam took five in a row, defeating Bayside 9-1, Maury 14-2, Norfolk Academy 10-3, Oscar Smith 10-1, and Kempsville 5-4. Kellam took its third loss at the hands of Granby 2-0. The Knights won their last seven games with almost fantastic efficiency. The Knights downed in succession Norview 5-3, Virginia Beach 7-1, Norfolk Catholic 6-1, and 9-0 and Princess Anne 3-0. To wind out the season the Kellam batsmen went on a spree and overcame Norfolk Academy by a 21-0 score.

The most valuable player of the JV team was Chris Spruill. Chris, a pitcher, finished the year with a 1.34 era. The pitching staff completed 14 of its 15 games and only allowed 1.39 earned runs while the batters averaged 7 runs per game.

Sam Bloylock slides home in the 5-3 victory over Norview.

Kellam's cindermen wound up the track season with an even 4 and 4 record, but along, the route set five new school records. The Knights got off to a fast start with three straight victories over Bayside, Oscar Smith, and Deep Creek. They dropped their next four to Churchland, Cox, Wilson, and Great Bridge.

In the Virginia Beach City Meet at Princess Anne the Knights did well in the hurdles and field events. This gave them 26 points and a third place finish. Kellam came home against Norfolk Catholic and finished the year with an impressive 74-37 victory.

Five people set new records this season. Danny Boyd pushed the pole vault record to 11'6" before he sustained a broken wrist. He was replaced by David Reynolds, who broke the two mile record by running the eight laps in 10 minutes 53.3 seconds. John Hobbs broke a school record in the high jump as he soared to 5'11". In the low hurdles junior Bill Trower took a record 21.1 seconds. Senior Clarence George competed in 6 events in each meet and personally amassed 127 points. He broke the record in the high hurdles with a 16.4 second clocking. At the May 23 Athletic Banquet coach Copley awarded 5 letters and 13 stars to players who had lettered previously.

Nick Rozos heaves the shot.

Cindermen Finish 4-4, Set Five School Records

David Reynolds, who set a school record of 10 minutes 53.3 seconds in the two mile, clears the bar in the pole vault after replacing Donny Boyd who broke his wrist in mid-season.

Richard West strains for extra distance in the broad jump.

Bob Connelly hurls the discus.

Fred Hill finishes first in the mile.

John Hobbs, discovered late in the season, shows the form which gained him the school high jump record of 5'11".

Tennis Team Has

The Kellom tennis team had a foiling season. Plogued with bad luck, the team was not victorious in any of its matches.

The first game was against Virginia Beach who beat Kellom 7-2. The Knight's arch rivals were next to defeat Kellom. The score was a heart breaking 8-1.

The next to overcome the Knights was Norview who was accredited with the score of 8-1. Churchlond matched Kellom and won 9-0.

The next two games were with Maury and Granby, both having a score of 9-0.

The newly built Boyside topped Kellom with a score of 5-4, Kellom's closest score to a victory. Great Bridge and Crodock were next to down Kellom, both having a score of 6-3.

Princess Anne and Wilson were Kellom's lost two opponents. Both beating the Knights. Princess Anne won 8-1 and Wilson 9-0.

Gawles, Lewis Gull, Jimmy Strubble, Raymand Spark, and David Janes.

GAA Gymnasts Place in State Meet at Richmond

The Girls' Athletic Association is designed to organize girls' sports and to sponsor any girls interested in sports in state tournaments.

The Kellam GAA has had competitive teams in field hockey, basketball, and gymnastics, as well as having sponsored a basketball game, which it lost, with the women faculty and a booth in the Junior Class Carnival.

In the state gymnastic meet, Donna Moore placed third in the tumbling division; Sue Carson placed second in the side horse vaulting division and fourth in the uneven parallel bars division; Carole Kowalczyk took 8th in the same category.

In the field hockey competition, the GAA tied for second place among the five schools in the city.

Sue Corson performs on uneven parallel bars in the district gymnastic meet held at Cox.

Gymnast Desire Varsity Recognition

The Gym Club is new at Kellam. The club seeks to interest boys in gymnastics and teaches them to use equipment safely and properly. The club meets Wednesday afternoon under the sponsorship of Mr. Stallings, a Kellam gym teacher and is aided by Mr. T. Tribble, a gymnast from Old Dominion College.

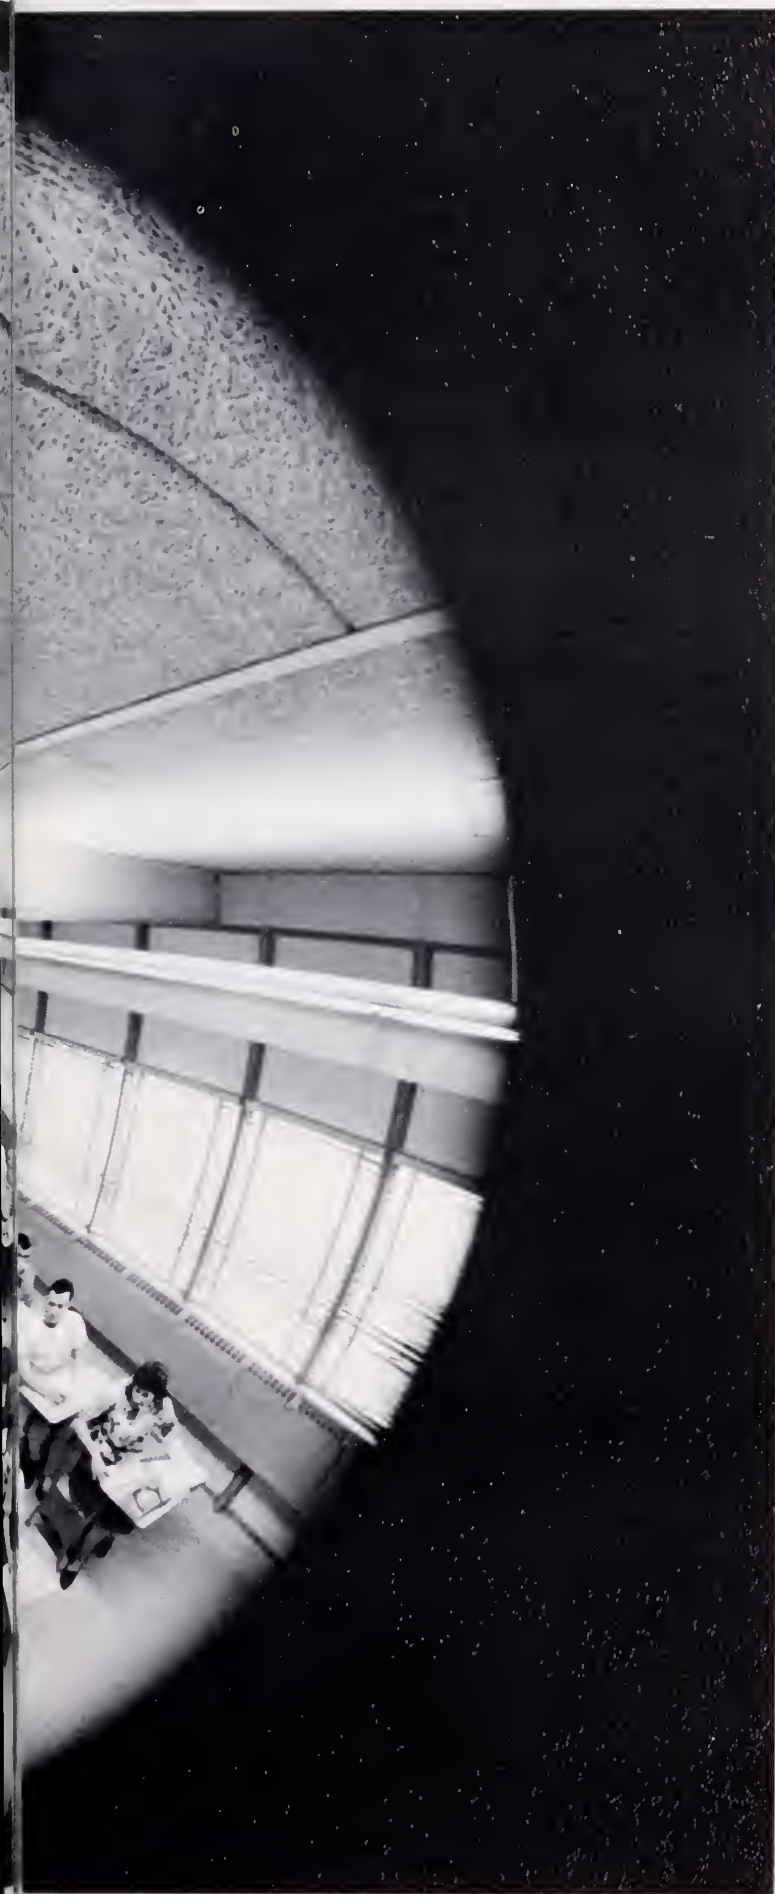

The boys learned to use such equipment as the rings, the iron horse, the parallel bars, and the newly acquired trampoline.

The most outstanding member of the club proved to be senior Bob Doyle. Bob received a first in the parallel bars and rings on March 19 at the AAU meet at Old Dominion College. In the state weight lifting tournament he was runner up in the teenage division. In the senior division he placed third in the state weight lifting event. Adding to his awards, he placed fourth in the Mr. Virginia contest.

Francis Muldez, Bob Doyle and Rony Garrison perform handstands on the parallel bars.

Underclassmen

The Challenge of Anticipation

Wondering which curriculum to choose . . . Being sized for class rings . . . Attending six classes instead of one . . . Watching Batman and studying for a semester exam at the same time . . . Hoping to be good enough to make the varsity . . . Participating in extracurricular activities . . . Voting for a new SCA . . . Struggling through a 1500 word term paper . . . Dissecting a frog . . . Believing that Hester committed the biggest sin in The Scarlet Letter . . . studying that extra hour to make the Honor Society . . . Loughing, giggling, pushing, shoving . . . Cheering a winning or losing team but cheering a team . . . Believing that you will pass that first exam in your high school career . . . Running for office, anxiously listening for the results . . . Wondering how next year will differ from the last.

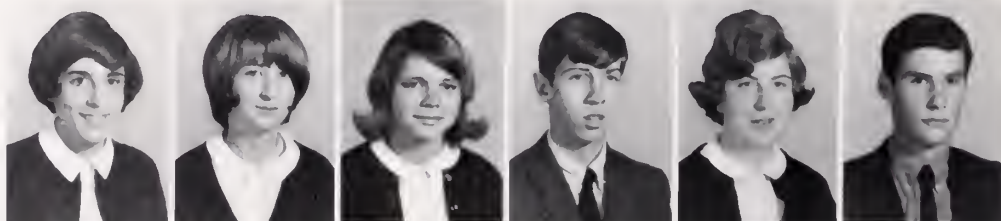

Junior class officers are Carol Martin, treasurer; Reggie Lewis, president; Sally Raebuck, secretary; and John Tawnes, vice-president. Their class was the first to begin at Kellam in the eighth grade.

The Challenge of Free Enterprise

Appreciating the school's value to the community . . .
Employing distributive education students . . .
Helping finance play tickets, sports programs, the Roundtable, the Challenger . . . Providing market places unparalleled in our time . . . Exemplifying economic principles of the classroom . . . Demanding punctuality, honesty, responsibility . . . Rewarding individual incentive . . . Providing a summer playground for the nation . . . Selling ideas as well as products . . . Gassing cars, cooking hamburgers, building homes . . . Recognizing the Superintendent of Schools as the "Man of the Year" . . .
Surpassing the other fellow's product and beating his price . . . Producing the "Showboat" Minstrel . . . Donating awards to outstanding students . . .
Sponsoring the athletic banquet . . . Taxing to improve education to improve Virginia Beach.

Words and music composed by Don and Margaret Proffitt

The first system of musical notation consists of a treble and bass staff. The treble staff begins with a key signature of two flats (B-flat and E-flat) and a 4/4 time signature. The melody is composed of eighth and quarter notes. The bass staff provides a simple harmonic accompaniment with quarter notes. The system concludes with a double bar line and repeat signs on both staves.

KEL-LAM HIGH SCHOOL EV-ER FAITH-FUL NO-BLE BRAVE AND STRONG

The second system of musical notation continues the melody and accompaniment from the first system. It maintains the same key signature and time signature. The system concludes with a double bar line and repeat signs on both staves.

GLOR-Y HON-OR TRUTH AND BEAU-TY EC-HO IN OUR SONG

The third system of musical notation continues the melody and accompaniment. The treble staff features a melodic line with some grace notes. The system concludes with a double bar line and repeat signs on both staves.

AND WITH HEARTS OF THANK-FUL-NESS WE LIFT YOUR PRAISES HIGH

The fourth system of musical notation continues the melody and accompaniment. The treble staff shows a melodic line with a final flourish. The system concludes with a double bar line and repeat signs on both staves.
